

STRONG ARMY IS FRENCH ANSWER TO HERR HITLER

Was Given As Germany Accepted British Reduction Plans

Paris, May 19—(AP)—Maintenance of a strong army was the French reply today to Chancellor Hitler of Germany.

Premier Edouard Daladier, categorically rejecting a further cut in war expenses, declared in the Senate that the French army is strong and must be kept strong.

This firm stand suddenly squelched talk of a meeting between the Premier and Hitler.

The government also officially denied that such a meeting was contemplated.

GERMANY ACCEPTS

Geneva, May 19—(AP)—Germany accepted the British disarmament plan today as a basis for an agreement to be reached by the world disarmament conference.

Manifestations of approval greeted Count Rudolph Noddy, German delegate, when he said that any German suggestions would dovetail with the British draft, which already had been accepted by all nations save Germany.

"I hope this will be regarded as new proof of German moderation," he said.

He referred to President Roosevelt's disarmament message to the world as "another great manifestation of peace." His entire address was conciliatory.

Announcing Germany's acceptance of the British plan, Herr Noddy said:

Demand Two Results

"The German people maintain and demand that the conference produce two results—first, security by disarmament of the heavily-armed states, and second, achievement of equality rights for Germany."

After the meeting had been adjourned to tomorrow, the German representatives told newspaper correspondents that Germany's acceptance of the British draft as the basis of an arms convention meant that his government would not press any fundamental changes in that draft.

Much depends on what the heavily-armed nations do, he explained, but some of the German amendments which have been presented will be withdrawn, some will be modified and others will be maintained.

Before the German delegate announced the Berlin decision, Arthur Henderson, chairman of the conference, remarked that there were many conciliatory points in the disarmament speech made before the German Reichstag Wednesday by Chancellor Hitler.

Plans For Action

Henderson said he was struck forcibly by the Chancellor's warning that any new war would cause the collapse of the social and political order.

The conference president made an impassioned appeal to the delegates to reach a disarmament agreement before the world economic conference started in London June 12. Such an agreement, he said, would answer the appeal of Roosevelt.

The Roosevelt message and Hitler's speech were hailed by Henderson as notable events. The conference, he said, is deeply grateful to Roosevelt and will undoubtedly give his proposals sympathetic consideration.

"The message is a contribution to our work whose importance cannot be overestimated," Henderson said.

Dairy Farmers To Demand Protection

Washington, May 19—(AP)—If plans are worked out by Secretary Wallace for agreements with farmers to reduce acreages devoted to which cotton, corn, and tobacco, representatives of dairy groups intend to insist on this point.

That the agreement contain a provision that the farmer not turn to dairying.

Dairymen assert that there will be a natural tendency to make such a switch and they contend, it would have the effect of over-expanding dairy production. They take the position that authority to insist on this provision is within Wallace's reach under the new farm adjustment act.

Dairy production has been about equal to domestic consumption for many years. There has been a tendency to increase output since 1928 as dairy prices declined less rapidly than the prices of other farm products. Dairymen have not been depending on foreign markets as have growers of cotton, wheat and so on.

Teachers Plan To Picket Chi. Expo.

Chicago, May 19—(AP)—Leaders of the militant Chicago school teachers union today might picket the Century of Progress Exposition and the railway stations all summer if it will embarrass the city enough to bring teachers' pay checks up to date.

Paid four months' salaries in the last week, the teachers are still four months behind. They have been remunerated for their teaching up to Jan. 1.

John M. Fawkes, teacher at Tilden Technical high school and a leader of the demonstrating group, said many teachers had suggested posting pickets through the fair grounds, meeting all trains and plastering the countryside with billboards telling of the teachers' plight.

GANG "ARSENAL" FOUND RESULT OF GUN BATTLE

Wounded Man, Found In House, Refuses To Say Anything

Chicago, May 19—(AP)—A woman and two men were sought by police today for questioning concerning the shooting of Charles Conroy in a bungalow in suburban Cicero in which a small arsenal, consisting of guns, shells and stolen dynamite was found.

Conroy, in a critical condition, refused to disclose the facts of the shooting.

Identity of the woman was unknown to police, but the man they said were "Big Jim" Morton and Williams Evans, once bodyguard for the slain labor racketeer, Geo. Barker.

Morton, police said, won himself a parole from the Ohio penitentiary at Columbus when he was credited with saving from 29 to 50 lives in the prison fire that took the lives of 322 other convicts three years ago. He was serving a term for a $65,000 Cleveland bank robbery in 1919. After the fire he became known as a "peace-maker" when riots broke out among the survivors.

Later when police searched the house they found 60 sticks of dynamite bearing the name of the Burton Explosive Company, Lemont, Ill. The company recently reported the theft of 500 pounds of dynamite from a warehouse.

They also discovered percussion caps, 200 feet of fuse, four shotguns and shells, two loaded cartridge drums for a machine gun and pistol shells.

SO. BEARDSTOWN LEVEE WEIGHTED WITH SAND BAGS

Flood Conditions Are Reported Improved In Many Places

Beardstown, Ill., May 19—(AP)—Sandbag reinforcements were placed on the South Beardstown levee today as the Illinois river reached a flood stage of 24 feet and continued to rise. Some water was seeping through the levee.

There was no damage here and no great danger from the swollen waters of the stream, which is running at the highest level since 1927 as the result of prolonged rains upstream.

The river was up seven tenths of a foot for the second day in succession. On April 30, 1927, the Illinois reached a stage of 24.5 feet and one June 8 of that year 24.9.

STORMS IN MINNESOTA

St. Paul, May 19—(AP)—Three persons were injured and four others were unconscious for a few minutes as severe wind, rain and electrical storms swept parts of Minnesota today and last night.

Many farm buildings were demolished, a $30,000 fire was started by lightning, and traffic on a railway was interrupted by a track washout.

Meeker and Kandiyohi counties in south central Minnesota bore the brunt of the first severe storm of the spring. Fifty farms suffered damage, chief to buildings.

Four members of the Peter Rosendahl family near Prinsburg lost consciousness after lightning struck their home. The father recovered and carried his wife and two children to safety while the home burned.

ST. LOUIS REPORT

St. Louis, May 19—(AP)—With the Mississippi River falling between Louisiana, Mo. and Cape Girardeau, Mo., the flooded Ohio river today was nearing its crest at Cairo, Ill., where it flows into the Mississippi.

The stage at Cairo was 51 feet, a rise of one foot in the last 24 hours. A crest between 51.2 and 52 feet Sunday was forecast by the Weather Bureau. Flood stage at Cairo is 45 feet but the city is protected by a 60-foot levee.

At New Madrid, Mo., below Cairo, the Mississippi stage today was 39.4 with a crest of 41 feet predicted Monday. Flood stage there is 34 feet.

The Illinois river was falling today at Peoria and above and at Pearl and below. A slight further rise was expected at Beardstown where the stage today was 23.9. A crest of 24.4 or 10.4 feet above flood level was predicted for Saturday.

LEVEES THREATENED

Memphis, May 19—(AP)—Muddy water swirling south through the gorge of the Mississippi river's levee system today, choking back tributary streams which already have driven hundreds of families from their homes and destroyed their crops.

Serious situations existed in parts of five states that robbed the big river. At Nimmons, Ark., near Kennett, Mo., and at Vincennes, Ind., families fled before levee breaks yesterday. Approximately 200 persons were homeless at Nimmons.

At Hickman, Ky., water was flowing through the business section for the second time this year. A large amount of land was under water in west Tennessee. The threat of levee breaks and additional backwater in northeast Arkansas, southeast Missouri and central Mississippi created grave situations. Tributaries in all these states continued to rise yesterday.

Clothing Is Badly Needed By Dixonites

The Dixon Emergency Relief Committee today issued an SOS call for wearing apparel of all kinds—clothing, underwear and shoes for men, women and children. The supply of such articles—donated throughout the winter and spring by kind-hearted citizens—is exhausted and each day the headquarters receives calls from needy Dixonites who can not be accommodated. All citizens are asked to look over their supply of such articles and make such donations as are possible. If it is impossible for donors to take their contributions to relief headquarters in the building west of Rink's coal office, a call to headquarters, phone 53, will result in the commission calling for them.

HANGING TO BE FATE OF CUBAN REBEL LEADERS

Government Leaders Decide On Stern Repression

Havana, May 19—(AP)—Hanging, following a "drumhead" court martial apparently has been decided upon by Major Asensio Ortiz to combat rebel activity in Santa Clara province.

Reports reaching here said the army officer, chosen this week to lead federal forces against rebels in Santa Clara and Camaguey provinces, already had executed several revolutionaries by hanging.

Meanwhile, it was learned that soldiers had been stationed at Banes Beach, west of Havana, awaiting an expedition from Central America, in which were said to be several who shared in the Gibara expedition of 1931.

Two army airplanes have been reconnoitering the coast nightly. Latest reports placed the dead in the revolt at 12, nine of them rebels, with approximately 40 wounded.

A report that the Major's two daughters, carrying sidearms and wearing uniforms, were serving as aides to their father was brought here.

Leaders of the radical revolutionary party claimed the time was not yet ripe for a revolution, saying that the Santa Clara groups had left home because they feared prosecution.

A secret meeting of detectives has been called for today, it was learned.

Official reserve met all questions as to the reasons for the conference, but it was generally believed it was to map out precautionary measures to meet an expected revolutionary outbreak here today or Sunday.

FEDERAL TAXES ON GASOLINE TO BE GIVEN BOOST

As One Of Likely Means Of Raising Over Three Billion

Washington, May 19—(AP)—President Roosevelt's far-reaching public works—industrial control bill today was headed for speedy congressional action despite the troubles presented by the need of raising new taxes.

The Democratic-controlled House Ways and Means committee fixed tomorrow noon for conclusion of hearings and planned to go directly into executive session to decide on whether it will increase normal income tax rates or levy a sales tax to derive $220,000,000 annually to pay interest and amortization charges on the proposed $3,500,000,000 bond issue.

Lewis W. Douglas, Director of the Budget, told the committee at its first hearings on the bill yesterday, that repeal of the 18th Amendment would provide a quarter of a billion dollars in revenue annually, more than enough to cover the costs of the bonds.

Senator Wagner (D. N. Y.) one of the drafters of the measure, William Green, President of the American Federation of Labor, and H. L. Harriman, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, gave their views to the committee today.

Labor Wants Changes

Green said that, with the adoption of two amendments clarifying the language dealing with what he called "yellow dog" contracts, "labor will extend to this proposed legislation its full, complete and hearty endorsement."

Green said the public works program "ought to be amended" to provide expenditure of five billion dollars instead of the administration's figure of $3,500,000,000.

The prediction that the public works bill would put over four million men to work was made by Senator Wagner.

Asserting that "tremendous support" was gathering behind the President's program, Wagner said so far as the effect with regard to the anti-trust laws was concerned, the bill would not abolish competition but would lift it to a higher plane.

Just before the session, Representative Cullen of New York, a ranking Democrat member, said he believed the committee would approve a plan raising income taxes, imposing these levies on corporate incomes and raising the gasoline tax.

Treasurer Of C. & N. W. Ry., A Former Dixonite, Is Dead

Maryland's Hunger Striking Prisoners Will Be Allowed To Starve As Long As They Wish

Baltimore, May 19—(AP)—Eighteen prisoners in the Maryland penitentiary, including three lifers and several of national notoriety, were in segregation cells today as fourteen of them continued their hunger strike for the fourth day.

The strike began Tuesday, when three prisoners declined the food offered them for breakfast and prison officials made no attempt to force them to eat.

William Niemoth, 39, one of Chicago's "public enemies," was one of the four in the segregated group who were not on the hunger strike. These were blamed by officials for a large share of the unrest at the institution.

Niemoth is doing ten years for participation in a payroll holdup in which one man was killed.

Warden Patrick J. Brady said the hunger strikers will be allowed to go hungry "until they come to their senses."

JOLIET POLICE SEEK AUTHOR OF "DAGGER" NOTES

Parents of Five-Year-Old Girl Live In State Of Fear

Joliet, Ill., May 19—(AP)—A third "danger" note threatening harm to five-year-old Shirley Mae Calkins spurred police and Postal Inspectors today in their hunt for the "gang" terrorizing Mr. and Mrs. Clyde G. Calkins.

The letter, signed like its two predecessors "The Gang" and identified by crudely drawn daggers, read:

"Mrs. Calkins: You like your little girl, don't you? You better drop the case and don't testify. This is your last warning. The Gang."

It was found in the Calkins mailbox this morning, but had not been sent through the mails. Nor did it bear bloodstains as did two threatening notes received yesterday. All the missives have been printed in pencil.

The two notes delivered at the house yesterday, the first by mail and the second tossed through a window with a stone attached, warned that Mrs. Calkins must abandon prosecution of Miss Hilda Demming, formerly a maid in her home, whom the mistress had arrested two months ago after finding some of her own possessions in Miss Demming's room.

It was the fourth bank holdup in this area in six days. Other raids were at Farmington, Minn.; Canova, S. D.; and Buxton, N. D., where the cashier was slain Wednesday, and Brooklyn, Minn.

Racketeers Levy On Union Girls

Chicago, May 19—(AP)—State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney declared today that racketeers who have invaded the laundry unions are raising a defense fund against possible indictments by exacting tribute from laundry workers.

Members of the Cleaners, Dyers & Pressers' Union, an American Federation of Labor affiliate, have been told they must pay a special assessment of one week's pay. Courtney charged.

Courtney said he had been informed of the "war chest" in letters from union members, many of them girls receiving small salaries of from $5 to $8 a week and unable to meet the demands.

MILK STRIKE IN WISCONSIN WAS SETTLED TODAY

Truce Reached During Night Ratified By The Milk Pool

Madison, Wis., May 19—(AP)—The Wisconsin Cooperative Milk Pool's strike, which raged for six days and resulted in one death and the use of half the state's militia force to combat widespread disorders, ended today.

However, the National Guardsmen continued to patrol trouble zones to prevent groups over which the pool has no control from interfering with the marketing of dairy products. Adjutant General Ralph M. Imnell said he would issue instructions for the withdrawal of the troops later in the day.

A three and a half hour conference in the office of Gov. Schmedeman ended last midnight in agreement whereby the pool promised to cease picketing activities and the Governor agreed to appoint a farmer-controlled committee to study the problems of agriculture.

The Pool's strike arbitration committee today formally ratified the action of its conferees with Gov. A. C. Schmedeman under which the milk strike was declared ended.

Listed for study were:

The abolition of the present system of base and surplus in pricing milk, butter and cheese; reorganization of the state Department of Agriculture; divorce of chain store organizations from manufacture and processing of food products; a conference by the committee with Secretary of Agriculture Wallace for the establishment of

EDITHTON LAKE
SHORE RESORT
IS FORECLOSEDAction Taken Against Property Of Late
Mrs. McCormick

Kenosha, Wis., May 19—(AP)—A suit for foreclosure on Edithton Beach, lake shore property near Kenosha owned by the Edith Rockefeller McCormick estate, has been started in Circuit Court here.

Plans had been made to transform the property into a fashionable summer colony, but they have been abandoned.

The suit was filed by Love & Company, Inc., and A. C. Greer, both of St. Louis, holders of $42,500 in first mortgage bonds on the property.

A total of $287,500 in bonds is outstanding, the remainder of an original issue of $1,333,500 having been retired in Circuit Court here.

Interest on the outstanding bonds and a payment of $150,000 on the principal have been defaulted.

Defendants in the suit are the Edith Rockefeller McCormick Trust Company, the Chicago Title & Trust Company, and Abel Davis. Davis and the trust company withdrew as trustees after abandonment of the summer colony project.

The Edith Rockefeller McCormick Trust Company is a holding concern for the late Mrs. McCormick's real estate properties. Mrs. McCormick, once known as the "world's wealthiest woman," died last summer. Her wealth has been revealed to have deteriorated from an estimated $50,000,000 to about one-fourth of that sum.

A bondholders protective committee has been organized in Chicago for Edithton Beach.

Officers of the association met at the home of the president, Dr. W. F. Aydelotte this morning at 10:30 and listened to a report of the delegation which yesterday met with officers of the state tax commission at Springfield and discussed the three point program of the state association which is as follows: (1) The one per cent limit on all property assessed at full fair cash value; (2) The compulsory issue of personal property schedule to cover all so-called intangibles including money; (3) Emergency tax legislation on occupations not to exceed one per cent supplementary to point 1, temporarily.

Chairman Walter Ortgiesen of the county board of supervisors, Assessor George Fruin of Dixon township and Mark D. Smith of the county board of review were present at the meeting.

MOONEY TAKEN TO FRISCO FOR SECOND TRIAL

Case Will Start Monday If Nothing Happens Then

San Francisco, May 19—(AP)—Back in the city which 17 years ago rocked from a Preparedness Day bomb explosion which sent him to prison convicted of murder, Thomas J. Mooney awaited the start of his second trial here today.

With a suddenness that caught even his wife by surprise, the 50-year-old life term convict was whisked from San Quentin prison to the San Francisco county jail yesterday.

The transfer was ordered by Superior Judge Louis H. Ward so that Mooney may confer with his attorneys on the trial which, unless something delays or prevents it, will start Monday, on an indictment resulting from the blast, which killed ten persons.

Mooney, confident and apparently in excellent health despite his years in prison, expressed hope that none of his sympathizers would do anything to cause a delay. Judge Ward recently postponed a scheduled start of the trial after demonstrators shouted "we want Mooney" outside the Halls of Justice.

New York Accountant
Tells Of Plot To Rob Ridley

New York, May 19—(AP)—An agreement to split three ways a $200,000 bequest in the questioned will of the slain Edward A. Ridley was related to police in the morning lineup today by one of two accountants, who were arrested last night charged with participating in an alleged conspiracy to rob the aged eccentric millionaire.

The bequest was made to Lee Weinstein, the secretary whose body was found alongside Ridley's in the latter's spectacular office last week. Police said that both the accountants, George Goodman and Arthur J. Hoffman, have confessed that they conspired with Weinstein to rob Ridley of $210,000.

After telling of a further conspiracy by which Ridley signed a will without knowing it, Hoffman said, as compensation for witnessing the document, Weinstein was to give himself and Goodman one-fourth of what he could get out of the will.

Hoffman said Weinstein dictated the provisions of the will and that he had it typed. He was present, he said, when Weinstein presented it to Ridley to sign.

THE FOREST OF DEAN

THE quiet congregation of the trees
Awoke to a rippled whisper.
The light-winged breeze,
Brushed leaf against leaf,
softly and delicately fingering.
Silken beech and ragged oak leaf; and in the cool
shadow
And wavering dapple of tremulous
sunlight lingering
As weary of the hot gold glow of
the buttercup meadow,
And renewing his strength in the
cool green and still shade
Of the forest, deeper and deeper burrowing in
By pathway and trackway and
green hide and arched glade
Over a sycamore and the white starred garlic and curled fern.
And dreaming in some unvisited
haven to win
New life from the growing grass
and rejoicing return
To sweep from hill to valley, from valley to hill
The birds were still.
Only far off a cuckoo calling.
Drowsily and perpetually a far-off
cuckoo calling.
—Robin Flower, in "Poems and Translations."

Now the Gals May Tramp, Tramp at the Fair in Comfort

By RUTH COWAN
Associated Press Staff Writer
Chicago, May 19—(AP)—And now comes the Century of Progress shoe,
designed especially to enable feminine feet to tramp in comfort
through the miles of exhibits at the World's Fair.

This shoe is anything but a round-toed, flat-heeled walking shoe. It is a trim smart street oxford, and was the outcome of a meeting not long ago of shoe department executives of a State Street store.
One of them had just come from a preview of the fair, and said to
his colleagues:
"Women were coming to the fair
in shoes they have been accustomed to wear—high heels in many instances—and after a day's excursion
through the wide-spread fair grounds, there are going to be aching toes and blistered heels. We must think of something."

The result was an especially designed shoe, which the manufacturers to whom it was entrusted rushed to turn out.
It has an extra broad ball, re-enforced extended counter to give support to the side of the foot, and is two letters narrower in the heel
and arch than across the ball of the foot. The moderate walking heel is sufficiently wide at the base to give good understanding. It is made in various leathers and colors.

Candle Lighting Ceremony Observed Wednesday Evening

An enthusiastic and representative group of Northwestern Alumni from Dixon and surrounding towns
met Wednesday evening at the Nachusa Tavern to celebrate the University's annual candle lighting ceremony. Similar celebrations were held in hundreds of cities in this country and abroad.

Following the very excellent dinner, a short business meeting was conducted at which time Mrs. Arthur C. Bowers of Dixon was elected president for the ensuing year
and Dr. W. T. Holladay of Amboy, secretary-treasurer. It was voted to send a note of sympathy to the surviving members of the families of the late Dr. Clinton H. Ives.

The local ceremony included the traditional lighting of a purple candle at the same moment that President Walter Dill Scott of Northwestern University lighted the great candle in the tower of Old College—the University's oldest existing building on the campus in Evanston. Following this the alumni sang "Go U Northwestern" and renewed their pledges of loyalty to the University.

Following the ceremony, Dr. C. G.
Pool of Compton, President of the group the past year, who has just recently returned from a five month's tour abroad, addressed the group. In an extremely interesting manner he told of some of the high points of interest in his trip,
of his contact with other university groups, of their viewpoint on the world situations, of the tense feeling abroad and of the attitude toward Americans. Following his talk,
he gave an opportunity for questions and there followed an extremely instructive informal discussion to which interest was added by remarks from Dr. and Mrs. Hoppers who had accompanied Dr. Pool on the tour.

Among those present were Mr.
and Mrs. Wm. Haefliger, Donald Crews, Oliver D. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Bowers, Louis J.
Swin and Dr. and Mrs. Hoppers,
all of Dixon; Dr. C. G. Pool of Compton; Dr. and Mrs. W. T. Holladay of Amboy; Miss Dorothy Lu-dens of Sterling; Miss Dorothy Runkle and Miss Steele of Oregon, and Rev. Chas. D. Wilson of Ashton.

"Mrs. Conrad" had won the prize.

ENTERTAINED FOUR SQUARE BRIDGE CLUB

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Frazer delightfully entertained the Four Square Bridge Club last evening.

High Lights in News of the Avenue

In our walk today we met several people who have been ill all winter
and who are now able to be out and enjoy the wonderful spring air.

We also met three or four genial business men of the east side of Galena avenue. Messrs. Robert Sterling, Clark Rickard, Manager
L. G. Rorer of the Dixon Theatre, and Dr. LaCour, and the sunny smile from Miss Shickley, also registered.

Inaugurated at Hollywood is the latest mode of entertainment, a combination of breakfast and luncheon, called a "brunch."

A school teacher friend at luncheon today told us this one which we pass on to you—She asked a little boy in her room, third grade, to describe the word, "unaware." His freckled face brightened with joy at being able to answer
and he said, "Unaware is the last thing you take off at night before you go to bed."

Just as the ladies and the gals get used to the pancake hat and other little dabs called hats, the milliners
pounce on us with still another style, and everyone goes "high hat,"
as it were, for the feminine headgear takes a shoot skyward. So all the fashions which disliked the flat,
squat appearance may like the tall
hats, who knows?

One of the loveliest centerpieces
for the spring table consists of mottled pink carnations interspersed with a few lilies of the valley.
Yellow roses and purple violets, or other purple flowers, are also charming and springlike.

"A most admirable thing in a woman"—a well modulated voice—
and a certain young woman who is proprietor of a gown shop on Galena avenue near Second Street,
has one of the loveliest voices.

On Galena avenue we met two high school girls bound for Ster-ling's drug store with large appetites for those grand chocolate sodas they serve there.

Friends in New York recently sent friends in Dixon a picture of Louella Parsons, noted film critic

When so many people are in actual want this year, it seems unfair
to keep perfectly good things hanging in your closet that you may happen to want someday, but probably never will. Why not clean everything out, coats, dresses, shoes,
stockings and extras? Local agencies are just waiting for a call to come get them and distribute them
where they will do the most good.

After a short conversation with a woman of beauty, brains and soul
the other day, it occurred to us that God has made many women of grace and beauty, but the woman whose soul is awakened, whose sweet spirit is felt by all with whom she associates, is like the song our mother taught us when she said all women and girls could bein spirit,
like the flower in the song, the lilies running—
"When a thirsty flower has taken
All the dew its heart can bear
It distributes the remainder
To the sunshine and the air."

Meeting of Palmyra Unit Is Enjoyed

The Palmyra Unit of the Home
Bureau met at the home of Mrs.
Verne Straw Monday. The chairman called the meeting to order
and the reports of the secretary and treasurer were approved. Seven members answered roll call with memory gems.
Mrs. Florence Syverud then gave the lesson on "Refinishing Floors
and Woodwork," showing all kinds of wood used in flooring, also discussing treatment, oiling and varnishing. In selecting a floor, one should consider if it is comfortable
to stand on, easy to keep clean, durable, attractive. Floors should be darker than walls. She demonstrated painting and stippling a rug, also border designs.

The meeting then adjourned, to meet with Mrs. Charles Mensch in June.

A PETITION

By HELEN WELSHIMER

I THANK Thee, now, dear God, for little things,
That birds still fly with brave, far-reaching wings;
That stars come back, tides turn, and roses grow,
That sunlight falls, and rain-wet breezes blow.

PERHAPS our dreams aren't worth the price we pay
So foolishly we seek to plot the way
Our lives should go. . . . Help us to understand That Thou who puts brown seeds in waiting land—

WHO touched five leaves one day in Galilee,
And fed a throng—and when a wayward sea
Once lay between a Promised Land and war
Rolled waters back. . . . Oh surely, God, before

WE start to doubt the tangled web today,
Make us remember, give us faith to pray!
There will be peace sometime, there will be dawn,
Just for the night help us to carry on!

Foard-Canfield Wedding Solemnized

A marriage of interest to this community took place in Chicago
last Saturday. The principals were Miss Betty Foard, daughter of Rev.
and Mrs. James A. Foard, former Methodist pastor in this city, and Mr. Robert Canfield, son of Mr.
and Mrs. I. S. Canfield, of Chana.
The ceremony took place at the Chicago Temple at the corner of Clark and Washington Streets, with the pastor, Rev. John Thompson officiating. The bride's father gave her away in marriage.

The bride was attended by Miss Iola Hamaker and Miss Maxine Roe of this city, and Miss Louise Haselton, of Rochelle sang during the marriage ceremony. The bridegroom was attended by Vance Mc-Bay, of Chicago, a fraternity brother, Ashley Foard, the bride's only
brother, was one of the ushers.

The bride wore a beautiful gown
of white crepe and carried white calla lilies. The bridesmaids wore yellow net and carried bouquets of yellow roses.

A reception at the church followed the wedding ceremony, after which a wedding dinner was served at the LaSalle hotel.

Rochelle high school, after which she attended Cornell College, at Mt. Vernon, Iowa. During the past year she had been engaged in dra-

and Cornell College. He has been attending Northwestern University law school, where he is a member of Gamma Eta Gamma and Tau Kappa Alpha fraternities.

Mr. and Mrs. Canfield expect to go to Kansas City after the close of the school year. They have the best wishes of their many friends
in this community. Rochelle News.

Plan Vacation Wardrobe Now

Your choice of vacation clothes must depend, of course, on where you intend to go. No use taking beach clothes to a farm or a hiking outfit to the beach.

An ideal vacation wardrobe consists of a traveling suit, spectator
sports ensemble, two party dresses and a frock for active sports. The traveling suit may be of suave triple sheer or a light weight crepe.
It is almost obligatory that the spectator sports costume have a swagger coat and that one of the party dresses be of cotton such as organza, organdy or linen.

An evening jacket, accessories
and the like must be selected to fit
your own individual requirements.

Health Talk Mon- day Eve Christian Ch.

The Pri-Lo-Ha Class of the Christian Sunday school is sponsoring a "Health Talk" to be given in the church parlors by Miss Genevieve C. Murphy of Rockford, on Monday evening,
May 22nd, at 7:30.

The class extends a cordial invitation to all girls over fifteen years of age and their mothers,
who are interested in health to attend this "Health Talk."

Annual May Party Rockford College

The annual May day fete or party
for Rockford College will be held Saturday at the College. This is always a very charming event, with interpretive dancing on the lawn, much delightful music, etc. It is hoped that the sun may shine and add cheer to the happy affair. Miss Clara Owen Bardwell, daughter of Mrs. H. U. Bardwell of Dixon, who is a senior this year and graduates
from Rockford College is active in the plans and arrangements for the fete, as the seniors have charge of it.

PHIDIAN ART CLUB TO MEET TUESDAY

The Phidian Art Club will meet
Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. A. F.
Moore, 915 Brinton avenue. Reports on the state and district federation meetings will be given at this time. There will also be special musical numbers.

DR. DONALDSON HERE FROM CHICAGO HEIGHTS

Dr. H. B. Donaldson of Chicago Heights was here to attend the funeral of Dr. C. H. Ives, yesterday afternoon. During his brief stay in Dixon Dr. Donaldson was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Lennon.

Linen Luggage For That Wanderlust

Along with the first crocus comes a whole flock of elegant-looking featherweight linen luggage, water-proofed and washable.
The suit case and over-night bag
are natural-colored linen, with leather-bound edges and smart stripes in brown, green or other colors that suit your ensemble. The traveling suit is brown and white
checks, with white pique blouse,
gloves and hat, so the luggage has
brown leather stripings.

Over-Coddling Breeds Impudence; Strive for a Happy Medium

A talk on children recently included these words: "The indulged,
over-coddled child is usually an impudent child."

It is true. All we have to do is to look about us, observe the parents who cannot say "no" and listen to the way their children receive an order.

When they are 18 or 20 these same youngsters grow up into
"pirates" without the least respect
or love for their mother and father, breaking their hearts in a hundred different ways. Then all the neighbors say, "What a shame,
and after all they have done for them, too!"

I warn all parents that if they are buying a child's love now through sheer indulgence and weakness they will buy it still more dearly later on, if they can get it at all.

Discipline Is First
It happens that I am one who does not believe in interfering too much in a child's life. I have for years advocated giving the child
his natural chance to develop and grow without too many orders.

But not for a minute have I meant that the child be allowed to step beyond the line. If he is to appreciate liberty he must first learn discipline. He must learn that commands mean quick action.
He must learn respect for his parents—not fear, but respect!

Once a mother shows weakness,
she shows her hand. Her child knows that she is afraid—afraid of losing his love. Instantly that puts him in command of the situation and, make no mistake, he will seize it.
Such children are fine and sweet tempered when everything is going their way, but cross them and

out comes the impudence, the rages, the sulks, or some sort of devilishness that the spoiled mind
seems to find such delight in.
These things are all "compensations" for thwarted will.

There will be no thwarted will
if parents begin in babyhood to make it understood they are the captains of the family. To get love, respect, and trust, they must be humane and loving captains, of course, but they must make it clearly understood that there will be no nonsense.

Merge Love With Control

If they are going to officer their children by overlooking all breaches, sin leaves of absence every hour
and generally hand out dispensations they cannot expect their small armies either to observe discipline or respect them. Unless there is a favor in sight the children will not obey. And even then it is questionable.

How different it is to merge the two things, love and control. It is strange that love depends so much upon respect and respect, in turn,
upon intelligent control, but such is the case.

When a child is impudent there is something terribly wrong. Either
he is over-indulged or over-controlled. Despotism sometimes causes impudence from sheer defiance.
An impudent child, however, is telling a sad story of mismanagement.

TRAINING NEW SOLDIERS

Having spoken his mind with refreshing frankness about faulty organization in the War Department, the useful and outspoken Maj.-Gen. Johnson Hagood is now proposing a radically new system of training army rookies.

At present, as everybody knows, the new recruit spends weeks and months just in learning how to do squads right. The intricacies of parade-ground maneuvers, the manual of arms and so on make a long primary course in the school of the soldier, and it takes a long time for the pupils to graduate. It is commonly stated that it takes from one to three years to fit a recruit for actual combat service.

General Hagood thinks this is all wrong. He would teach rookies to handle their guns in the field first and let them learn the other stuff later; and he asserts that it ought to be possible to fit a rookie for active service in no longer than 10 days. His battalions doubtless would be sorry sights on the drill field; but he says they would be able to fight acceptably—and that, after all, is the main job of the soldier.

"AMBULANCE CHASERS"

The "ambulance chaser" has been with us for a long time, and efforts to rid the legal profession of his presence have never been entirely successful. However, a note of hope is to be found in a recent warning from the Minnesota supreme court that lawyers found guilty of ambulance chasing hereafter will be subject to disbarment.

The court issued this warning after hearing the case of a Minneapolis lawyer accused of maintaining an aggressive organization for procuring personal injury actions. Sometimes this man even made contact with victims through relatives while the victims were still unconscious.

The ambulance chaser blights society in several ways. He clogs the courts with needless lawsuits, he harasses people who are not at fault and he brings his whole profession into disrepute. It is to be hoped that other courts besides those of Minnesota will see their way clear to tamper his operations.

FRANCE'S WAR DEBT

Senator Berenger of France, chairman of the Senate's Foreign Affairs Committee, remarked in the French Senate recently that his fellow countrymen ought not to count too much on getting substantial concessions from the United States government in regard to the war debts.

President Roosevelt, he agreed, seems well-disposed—but there is still the American Congress to deal with; and he warned his hearers that "we don't want to repeat the experience we had with Wilson and Hoover."

That, when you stop to think about it, is probably fair enough, after all. If Presidents Wilson and Hoover could be questioned about it, they would probably say, quite fervently, that they didn't want to repeat the experience they had with France either.

When Duncy had fanned the tent smoke out, the others heard him loudly shout, "I will admit that I was dumb, but now things are all right."

"Come in and sit down, everyone it's cozy here and lots of fun. We will sit and talk together till the coming of night."

"That will not be long," said Goldy. "Then we'll crawl up to our house again. I like it better in a tree than down here on the hard ground."

All of a sudden Coppy cried, "I think that something is outside, please listen for a minute. I just heard a funny sound."

For some time they were very still. Then Doty's voice broke out, real shrill. "Why, it is our goat," she shouted. "Look! He is peeking 'neath the tent."

"I'm sure that he will fume and fuss, if we don't let him bunk with us," laughed Doty. Then outside, to get the little goat, he went.

Soon it was time to go to bed.

"Well, good-night, boys," the two girls said. And then they climbed into the tent, and went to slumberland.

All of the Tinsies slept real well. At dawn they heard we Windy yell, "Get up! The sun is shining and the morning air is grand."

When Goldy jumped down to the ground, she said, "I am going to look around and find some real nice clay. I will make some dishes, if I do."

One Tinsie cried, "That will be fun, if you will show us how it's done. We've done a lot of funny things, but this stunt will be new."

Then Coppy, digging with a big stick said, "Here's some clay that will work slick." They gathered quite a lot of it and took it to the shore.

Wee Goldy molded it with care and shortly said, "Well, lads look there! We'll let the sun bake this lot, an then we will make some more."

Daily Health Talk

TRAUMATIC EPILEPSY

From a number of research centers there is forthcoming a series of reports on experimental studies on the surgical treatment of traumatic epilepsy, that form of the disease which is traceable to injury. In a study of 1800 cases of gunshot wounds of the head, it was found that 4-12 per cent of the sufferers developed what is called secondary epilepsy.

Scientists set themselves to the task of determining why head injuries were followed by certain instances of epilepsy.

The results of their studies seem to point to the fact that the epileptic seizures are due to cerebral irritation, the result of the formation of scar tissues in and about the brain.

In experimental studies with animals it was found that injury to the brain, particularly when involving the brain coverings, is followed by the formation of reparative scar tissues.

The scar tissue tends to contract steadily for a period of years and this contraction, pulling upon the brain, alters the position of the tissues and displaces the ventricles of the brain—the hollow spaces located within the brain and filled with cerebral fluid.

A number of cases of traumatic epilepsy have been treated surgically. The scar tissue was removed together with the bone flap overlying the affected region.

The surgical wound later filled up with a new form of connective tissue which did not exert much pull on the brain tissues. In a number of cases, the patients formerly epileptic have been free from fits for a number of years.

Epilepsy, as is known, is a disease of many forms. One is not warranted in the conclusion that the epilepsy due to cerebral injury is identical with every other form of epilepsy.

Nevertheless, this advance in our knowledge of some phases of traumatic epilepsy and its surgical treatment must add to our general knowledge of this important disease.

GOOD THOUGHTS

Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life. Let thine eyes look right on, and let thine eyelids look straight before thee. Ponder the path of thy feet, and let all thine ways be established.

Proverbs 5:23, 26, 28.

The importance of holding to a right mental attitude is worth serious consideration. How many times unhappiness, disappointment, dismay, are the aftermath of some incident in which a wrong attitude was assumed? What peace, serenity, joy, is sure to follow a resisted temptation of that kind!

—The Christian Science Monitor

In all things throughout the world, the men who look for the crooked will see the crooked, and the men who look for the straight will see the straight.

—Ruskin

I need Thy presence every passing hour; What, but Thy grace can foil the tempter's power? Who like Thyself, my guide as stay can be?

Through cloud and sunshine, oh, abide with me.

—H. F. Lyte

Day and night, and every moment, there are voices about us. All the hours speak as they pass; and in every event there is a message for us. All our circumstances talk with us; but it is in Divine language, that worldliness misunderstands, that selfishness is frightened at, and that only the children of God can hear rightly and happily.

How many days in the month do you feel your best? You can add to these sunshine days by simply obeying nature's laws.

The first of these laws is regular elimination. Avoid common constipation by eating a delicious cereal.

Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to help aid regularity. ALL-BRAN also contains twice the iron of an equal weight of beef liver.

How many days in the month do you feel your best? You can add to these sunshine days by simply obeying nature's laws.

The first of these laws is regular elimination. Avoid common constipation by eating a delicious cereal.

Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to help aid regularity. ALL-BRAN also contains twice the iron of an equal weight of beef liver.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. How much more pleasant than pills and drugs—so often habit-forming.

Serve as a cereal or use in cooking. Directions on the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Sidelights In News In Capital Of United States

By SIGRID ARNE

Washington (AP)—Three members of the senate are riding abreast again. And this time the taciturn Senator Bronson Cutting, of New Mexico, is pointing the way in a typical bill for the three—a bill proposing expenditures estimated at from $3,000,000 to $6,000,000, 000 on public works.

His colleagues in the fight, as is frequently the case, are "Young Bob" La Follette of Wisconsin and Senator Cogan of Colorado.

Time and again the three have stood shoulder-to-shoulder on some major battle—for the most part battles with social welfare as an expressed objective.

Rated A Republican
For Cutting these battles have meant a rapid rise into the public limelight. He was appointed to fill a vacancy in 1927 by a democratic governor, although he, himself, places his name in the republican column on the ballot.

He is elected on the republican ticket, but his votes in the senate rate him an independent. He is found almost invariably on what he considers the liberal side.

Cutting was born on Long Island, where he and his white-haired mother, Mrs. Olivia Cutting, still maintain a home. Cutting is 45, and unmarried.

But Long Island Harvard sheepskin, or to his interests seem to observers to lie with the other half of the world.

Supported Franklin Roosevelt

He is a man to reckon with on the senate floor, out in a markedly unobtrusive way. He seldom talks, but when he does he speaks briefly and to the point.

He was watched closely in the last pre election campaign, and the day, he as a republican, announced through his Santa Fe newspaper his support of Roosevelt there was a stir up and down the political ranks.

The sons of the New Mexico plains he loves have burned him to a tan that lasts straight through the winter.

His face is oval and youthful, and yet above it is a streak of white hair that accentuates his large, dark eyes. He dresses in grays that emphasize the white streak, and in browns that tone in with his out-of-door color.

Just recently he marshalled social welfare workers to a hearing on a $15,000,000 bill for the homeless boys which has been absorbed in the Wagner bill. Always at these hearings there is one constant spectator—his mother.

Acks Billions For Jobs

Now he advocates a public works bill asking that a maximum of six billion be spent in the next two years to put men back to work.

On his entry into the senate he threw himself into a fight against censorship which was followed by liberalization of the rules applying to admission of recognized literature.

He has started a battle against large campaign expenditures which still hangs fire. He was co-author of the Philippine Independence bill.

Health Sent Him West

His adoption of New Mexico happened 22 years ago when illness sent him west, where many of his new people are accustomed traditionally to the "patron" the kindly and wise adviser in the "hacienda" who has time for his neighbor's problems.

His large home in Santa Fe is always open alike to the man who ties his burro at the gate and to the ranch-owner who canters up on a hunter to join the senator in a morning ride.

didates are invited to attend and give short talks. Every voter should hear the judicial candidates who are competing for election June 6. A complete report of the meeting of the state association on May 3 will be given.

A mother and daughter banquet will be held at the Church of the Brethren Saturday evening at 7 o'clock.

A scramble supper will be served and the following program will be given: Devotions, Mrs. G. A. Brantner; song—Audience; instrumental solo—Edith Travis; vocal solo—Opal Thompson; Talk—Mrs. E. G. Hoff of Elgin; reading—Mrs. C. D. Butterbaugh; vocal duet by Mrs. Orville West and Mrs. Price Heckman.

The Garden club will have a tulip display in the Bracken Style Shop windows, Saturday.

It is your duty to carry Accident Insurance. If you use an automobile you can protect your family to the amount of $1,000 for 1 year for $1.25.

BEER'S RETURN ENDS LONG LEAN YEARS IN OREGON

Many Hop Growers Saved From Bankruptcy In State

Salem, Ore., May 19—(AP)—Twelve lean years have ended for hop growers and the price boom resulting from the return of legal beer has saved many from bankruptcy.

Now, with hops at 75 cents a pound and supplies scant, there is eager bidding to acquire new acreage in the Willamette valley producing belt. The return of beer has boosted the price 65 cents a pound higher than in the prosperity year of 1929.

But in some quarters gloom persists. Many growers are profiting but little. They are the ones whose crops were contracted in lean years at prices from 11 to 15 cents a pound.

These growers are making every effort to increase acreage so that new crops will offset the low return from the old yards.

Romeo Gouley, state legislator and hop grower, said that, while probably not more than 5 per cent of the 1932 hop crop will be sold at the high prices, a return of more than $1,250,000 to the Oregon hop growers the past month has erased thousands of dollars in debts and has eased credit.

Of the growers who produced the other 85 per cent, Gouley said, "It wasn't a case of wisdom in holding the crop for the return of beer. It was a choice between starvation and food."

"They could not afford to gamble on the return of beer and many of them sold out on 3-year contracts and are bound by those contracts. The others sold only part of their crops on contract and held the rest as a gamble. They are the fortunate ones."

Of the growers who produced the other 85 per cent, Gouley said, "It wasn't a case of wisdom in holding the crop for the return of beer. It was a choice between starvation and food."

"They could not afford to gamble on the return of beer and many of them sold out on 3-year contracts and are bound by those contracts. The others sold only part of their crops on contract and held the rest as a gamble. They are the fortunate ones."

These growers are making every effort to increase acreage so that new crops will offset the low return from the old yards.

Romeo Gouley, state legislator and hop grower, said that, while probably not more than 5 per cent of the 1932 hop crop will be sold at the high prices, a return of more than $1,250,000 to the Oregon hop growers the past month has erased thousands of dollars in debts and has eased credit.

EXTRA SESSION OF LEGISLATURE LOOMING STRONG

Assembly Is Hardly Able To Finish Business Before July 1

Springfield, Ill., May 19—(AP)—Sales tax and beer—the two issues which tied the General Assembly up in a legislative knot for several months earlier in the session—appear destined to cause a jam which will probably result in a special session.

Little more than a month of the present regular session remains if the Assembly is to adjourn, as is customary, before July 1. Still awaiting consideration are the essential appropriations.

To mix as will be done, the debate on the new sales tax measure and the amendments to the beer bill will, undoubtedly, cause a jam at the end of the session which will result in the killing of hundreds of bills.

Legislative leaders already are speaking privately of the special session which they expect to be held early in the fall.

Many Want Session Changing conditions, they contend, will probably necessitate special legislation. Then, too, members of the Assembly, whose bills will die with adjournment, will, as usual, favor a special session at which the would seek to have their "hobbies" come under the terms of the Governor's call.

Little other than appropriations, sales tax and beer bill amendments can be considered in the short space remaining.

Bitter and protracted debate over the administration's new sales tax measure is as certain as introduction of the bill itself.

The measure, which is being written by Attorney General Otto Kern in accordance with the provisions proclaimed by the Supreme Court when it invalidated the first sales tax act, will not contain an emergency clause. As a result it will require a bare majority in both houses for enactment whereas the previous measure needed a two-thirds vote as it was an emergency bill.

Beer Bill Fight The beer amendments, made necessary by oversights in the original bill, will also cause extensive debate and probably result in a "local option" fight.

Just before the legislature adjourned yesterday until Tuesday, Representatives McCarthy, Bolger and W. M. Carroll introduced a bill to create a state milk commission, composed of the directors of the Department of Agriculture, Health and Trade & Commerce, with broad powers to regulate the dairy industry in times of emergency.

Representing both houses, a committee was appointed to study the revenue and tax situation and recommend permanent reforms.

Many explanations were offered for McCumber's defeat. Some held that it was due primarily to his support of the Esch-Cummings law, a railway transportation act bitterly attacked by various labor groups. Others saw it as the result of his vote to seat Senator Newberry of Michigan, whose campaign expenditures were under fire. Disappointment of many of the "independent republicans" that faction of the party opposed to the non-Partisan League, was also said to have been a big factor in his defeat.

How far his celebrated stand on the League of Nations issue affected his position in his own party was not approximated. McCumber was one of the few republicans to favor United States participation, and as the second ranking member of the senate foreign relations committee was a thorn in the side of the Chairman, Henry Cabot Lodge.

Upon his defeat, McCumber retired to private law practice at Wahpeton—the town that gave birth to his political aspirations. It was to Wahpeton he came to set up his first law partnership with B. I. Bogart, after obtaining his degree from the University of Michigan in 1890.

The trade stretched back to Crete, Ill., where he was born on February 3, 1858, thence to Rochester, Minn., where his father parents sent him to high school and where he taught several years after graduation, building toward a legal profession.

The "greenback" and "free silver" periods found the young lawyer of Wahpeton militantly firm for the gold standard. Republican leaders favored him with the job of county attorney of Richland county. His policy of strict enforcement for North Dakota's prohibition law gave him immediate prominence. It was, but a short step into both houses of the territorial legislature and his career was under full steam.

Sent to the United States Senate for the first time in 1899, he joined some of America's greatest leaders in discussions of momentous international questions. Aftermath of the war with Spain and the new problems presented by Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines were among his first subjects of debate. He introduced a joint resolution for the appointment of a commission to investigate the commercial conditions in China and Japan.

Placed on the committees on claims, Indian affairs and pensions, McCumber's clear analysis of important questions gave him distinction. His fight for prohibition made him a national figure. He prosecuted a long and bitter struggle for the pure food laws which do not bear his name but for which political circles gave him the credit. Appointed to the senate finance committee in 1909, he began the memorable march toward his greatest political aspiration—the chairmanship.

In 1925 McCumber was appointed to the International Joint Commission by President Coolidge, with permanent residence in Washington.

FORMER SENATOR M'CUMBER DIED LATE LAST EVE

Stroke Fatal To Pure Food Law Author At Washington

Washington, May 19—(AP)—Nearly two score years service in public life was at an end today for former Senator Porter J. McCumber of North Dakota.

The 75-year-old lawyer-statesman, remembered chiefly as father of the pure food law and co-author of the much debated Fordney-McCumber tariff act of 1922, died late last night of a stroke suffered three days ago. Funeral services and burial will be in Washington Saturday.

After his defeat in the 1922 primaries by Lynn J. Frazier, incumbent, McCumber, who had held his Senate seat since 1899 and had risen to the chairmanship of the powerful Finance committee, returned to law practice in Wahpeton, N. D., and later in Washington.

In 1925 he was appointed by President Coolidge to the International Joint Commission on disputes between the United States and Canada over boundary waters and served until his death.

Born in Crete, Ill., Feb. 3, 1858, McCumber was educated in Rochester, Minn., and the University of Michigan.

Father of the pure food laws and co-author of the intensely criticized and defended Fordney-McCumber tariff act of 1922, Porter J. McCumber of North Dakota saw his long career in the United States Senate terminated in the hour of its greatest attainment.

The Republicans had returned to power in national politics in 1920 and McCumber, kept in the Senate by a large majority despite a general democratic victory, rose to second place on the powerful Finance committee. Only the veteran Boies Penrose outranked him.

Then, in January, 1922, the famous chief of Pennsylvania republicanism died, and McCumber automatically was elevated to the chairmanship and to his most profound ambition. He inherited along with Senator Penrose's mantle the title to the unfinished tariff bill which increased the duties on industrial imports to a point never before reached in history.

But fate was to rob him of perhaps a long and remarkable tenure of the chairmanship. At the primary election in 1922, Lynn J. Frazier, nonpartisan league, who had been recalled from the Governorship in a state-wide referendum, upset all expectations and defeated McCumber for the republican nomination.

"It is the fortune of war and that is all there is to it," said the vanquished campaigner, whose experience trailed back over a quarter of a century of a century of North Dakota politics. In a few weeks he was in the fight for Frazier, supporting him "because he bore the republican stamp."

Many explanations were offered for McCumber's defeat. Some held that it was due primarily to his support of the Esch-Cummings law, a railway transportation act bitterly attacked by various labor groups. Others saw it as the result of his vote to seat Senator Newberry of Michigan, whose campaign expenditures were under fire. Disappointment of many of the "independent republicans" that faction of the party opposed to the non-Partisan League, was also said to have been a big factor in his defeat.

How far his celebrated stand on the League of Nations issue affected his position in his own party was not approximated. PLAYERS GRATEFUL TO SCHOOL BOARD FOR ITS FIELD

Efforts To Obtain A Diamond On So. Side Unavailing

Officials and managers of teams of the Dixon soft ball league are expressing their appreciation to the Board of Education and to Superintendent A. H. Lancaster and Athletic Director Arthur Bowers of the high school, for the permission to use the high school athletic field for the summer schedule of games. At present this is the only available site within the city limits where games can be played and more than 200 young men are associated with the ten teams composing the league. Several weeks ago an appeal was made both to the city council and the Park Board asking their cooperation in providing a suitable playing field and another request was taken to the city council last Tuesday evening. The Ortigiesens Grocers team of Swissville have tendered the use of their field west of the Borden condorsory for the playing of games but at present there is no diamond on the south side of the river.

Grocers Routed
Last evening two one-sided games were played at the athletic field diamonds. On the south field the Wink's Specials had their first tilt with the Dixon Grocers which ended in a shut out victory for the Specials by a score of 19 to 0. "Flash" Fordham, twirler for the victors, paddled out a home run with the bases loaded in the first inning when eight runs were tallied. Two hits were all that could be secured off Fordham's delivery. The score:

SURPRISE—

That rather talkative little fellow named Jack Sharkey, is due to get a huge surprise when he meets the rather large Primo Carnera in defense of his somewhat disputed heavyweight title June 29.

The surprise will make itself known when the "canary" steps into the ring that night and shows the gabby gob just what an improved fighter he is since the night he last fought Sharkey in 1931.

That fight, if you'll recall, was won by the Boston bluffer after 15 rounds of trying to solve the problem of how to hit a guy, as wide open as the Italian giant was, and hurt him enough to make a favorable impression. It's true that the present heavyweight prize won the brawl, but the interpreter at the fight didn't hear Carnera say anything that sounded like a painful ejaculation.

THE FAST FREIGHT—
When the huge bulk first invaded our sunny shores in the hope of gaining glory and gelt, his barnstorming tour took him through the ranks of the stumblers and second-raters. While his antics with these boys brought him a lot of hard words, he was, at the same time, absorbing an excellent training that he would have never received in a gym fighting at infrequent intervals.

The every-day stands in the sticks, covering a period of more than two years, made the slow-moving Italian a pretty fast freight.

NO, NOT THAT!

We don't mean to imply that the Stars Of Leagues To Meet July 6th.

Chicago, May 19—(AP)—The old controversy over the comparative average strength of the American and National Leagues will be settled—as far as one game can settle it—here July 6.

All-stars teams selected by a nation-wide vote of the fans, will meet under the sponsorship of the Chicago Tribune. The league presidents, William Harridge of the American and John A. Heydler of the elder league, have given ap-pride of sunny Italy has acquired all the grace of an adagio dancer—no, no, no! But he has managed to train his hair to slick down, wear well-fitting duds, park his dogs in civilized shoes, and lead with his left hand.

Since that 1931 Sharkey tilt, Carnera has won several battles, quite a few of them worthy of notable mention. Add to that the fact that he has been spending quite a bit of time with the good Signor Benito Mussolini, and there is hint that perhaps Italy's dictator has promised the good-natured son a job in the Cabinet if he dons Mr. Sharkey's crown.

Anyway you take it, Sharkey will know he's been in a fight when it's all over (if he's conscious).

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Joe Savoldi insists that it would require at least sixty days to get in trim for a return match with Jim London—which indicates that handsome Jeemy must be a rather good grappler after all—or that those frequent matches a wrestler indulges in every week aren't all they're supposed to be. Donnie Hurst, who quit the Phillies' training camp this spring, all in a huff about salary arrangements, is back with the boys—and he is faster than a well-fed hog. Wesley Ferrell, the Indian's crack right-hander of 1932, won't squawk so long about salary arrangements next year—there are two reasons—Ozal Hildebrand and Mel Harder. The expense of the undertaking will be underwritten by the newspaper and the profits will be turned over to the Association of Professional Baseball Players of America, the game's charitable organization. It is planned to create a trust fund, investments to be made in U. S. government securities, the proceeds of which will be used to aid old and destitute players.

Lott And Van Ryn In Doubles Today

Montreal, May 19—(AP)—The United States tossed her great tennis doubles players, George Lott and John Van Ryn, against Canada today, counting upon them to produce the victory that would clinch the North American zone Davis Cup finals.

Straight set triumphs for Ellsworth Vines, American champion, and Wilmer Allison in the opening singles encounters yesterday left the invading squad needing only one victory to decide the series.

Facing almost certain elimination, Canada called on Dr. Jack Wright and Marcel Rainville for doubles duty and hoped for the best.

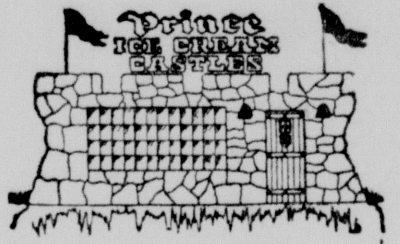

Should Wright and Rainville pull an upset and win, Canada's position still would be desperate, for the Lott-Van Ryn squad would need to take both of the final two singles matches Saturday to capture the series.
